

House Rules Creative Whereabouts

Every visitor accepts that general house rules apply for every visit

Every visitor must conduct with minimum courtesy against staff and other co-workers

Every visitor must check-in at the reception desk prior to the visit, with or without reservation made in front, and follow instructions of responsible of the house

Every visitor must check-out at the reception desk after the visit, and follow instructions of responsible of the house

Every visitor acknowledges that every extra cost made during the visit will need to be settled before the end of the visit

Every visitor must comply with duration, location and services as agreed in the reservation made before the start of the visit, and any discrepancy must be reported immediately to the responsible of the house after which the necessary modifications and/or settlements can be made

Every visitor takes the necessary caution when using any of the accessories of the building

Every visitor acknowledges the authority of the responsible of the house in case of any disagreement. A possible concession by the house will only be made when initiated by the house in a timeframe chosen by the house.

Every visitor is aware of other co-workers working and meeting in the building and the possible accompanied disturbance in the non-private environments

Every visitor acknowledges the conditions set out by Workero (booking agency) and Creative Whereabouts concerning the co-working concept and tariffs

